Winchester Town Records

The township was laid out into 6 tiers, parallel with the eastern line of the township, the first 5 to be 1 mile 6 rods (5,379 feet). This included a reservation for a 6-rod (99 feet) highway north-south, and the 6th or westernmost, so broad as to take up the rest of the land.

Annals and Family Records of Winchester, Conn. Boyd, Hartford, 1873

We should note here that there appears a little further on in volume 1 of the Winchester Town records, a schematic showing the town to be laid out in 11 tiers. There does not seem to be an explanation for this discrepancy.

May 2, 1786 The following were residents of Winchester who lived on what is today Conn. Route 8. The area involved extended from the Colebrook town line southward to the north side of the Old North Road (where Pond's house is today adjacent to and south of the VFW).

David Crissey	Nathaniel Russell
Abel Hoskins	Abel Hoskins Jr.
Elijah Andrews	Elijah Andrews Jr.
Preserved Crissey	Israel Crissey

The next adjacent landowner in Winchester south of these people was Nathaniel Bissell. These people successfully petitioned the State legislature to join Colebrook's ecclesiastical society.

Note:

While the earliest town records mentions in passing that there was an iron ore deposit in the northeastern corner of the 11th tier, the subject is never brought up again. A Gazetteer of the States of Connecticut and Rhode Island by John C. Pease and John M. Niles, Hartford, 1819 noted under Winchester that they have no iron ore. (page 266)
